

Parent Permission for Student Publication on the Internet

During the school year, students will create curriculum based projects, some of which will appear online. These projects may include the student's voice, photos of the student, videos of the student, student illustrations, and student thoughts and ideas. These projects give students the added incentive to produce excellent work that is published for others to see.

We believe that student publication plays an essential role in developing a positive digital footprint. Digital publication and sharing extends learning beyond the walls of the classroom. We will only include the student's first name with his or her work.

Please select one of the following options below, sign, and return this page to your child's teacher.

Thank you.
